Goodbye JANELLE

DOWN THE GARDEN PATH... AND INTO RETIREMENT

After hours on Thursday, 23 July, Janelle took one final walk Down the Garden Path as staff and volunteers gathered to celebrate her remarkable six years with the Denmark Community Resource Centre.

Beautifully coordinated by Leanne, the interactive farewell game invited everyone to reflect on Janelle's journey with the Centre. Each stop along the garden path sparked treasured memories, shared stories and plenty of laughter, creating a celebration that perfectly reflected the warmth and joy Janelle has brought to our team over the years.

More than just a colleague, Janelle has been a friendly face, a listening ear and a constant source of kindness and support for everyone who has walked through our doors. Her compassion, generosity and unwavering commitment to helping others have left a lasting mark on our organisation and the wider community.

A heartfelt thank you to Leanne for creating such a thoughtful and memorable send-off, giving everyone the opportunity to celebrate the friendships, laughter and countless moments that have made Janelle such a treasured part of the Denmark Community Resource Centre family.

As Janelle heads off on the next chapter of her journey, we thank her for the care, dedication and friendship she has shared so generously. While her path now leads to retirement, she will always be part of the Denmark Community Resource Centre family and will be deeply missed.

We wish you every happiness, adventure and well-deserved relaxation in the years ahead, Janelle.

*HAPPY

WEAR. SHARE. REPEAT.

A Sustainable Day of Style

Get ready to shop, swap and discover some incredible pre-loved treasures when the Wear. Share. Repeat. Women's Clothing & Accessories Market comes to the Denmark Community Resource Centre on Sunday, 16 August.

The community has embraced the event in a big way, with all 26 stallholder spaces officially sold out. The overwhelming response means visitors can look forward to an exciting and diverse range of quality pre-loved clothing, shoes, handbags, jewellery and accessories—all at affordable prices and ready for a new home.

More than just a market, Wear. Share. Repeat. is designed to be a fun, welcoming experience for everyone. Visitors can take their time browsing the stalls, enjoy tea, coffee from Ben's place, make use of the change rooms and mirrors, and even seek advice from our friendly fashion police, stylists and advice givers. A sewing and mending station will also be available, offering on-the-spot repairs and simple alterations, as well as drop-off mending services to help give favourite garments a new lease on life.

The market is proudly presented by the Denmark WA Town Team in partnership with the Denmark Community Resource Centre, with support from the Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development.

Together, the event celebrates community connection, sustainable living and the idea that great fashion deserves a second chance.

So grab your friends, bring your reusable shopping bags and join us for a morning of fashion, fun and fantastic finds. You never know what hidden treasure you'll uncover!

Help us test the new way of planning

We want participants with different disability types, support needs and experiences to help test the new way of planning.

We want to test the new process to make planning fairer and more consistent for all participants.

We're running 2 types of testing activities:

Activity 1: Complete a simulated support needs assessment.

Activity 2: Help train and accredit NDIA assessors who will complete support needs assessments in the future.

Participants are paid to take part in testing.

Separate consultation opportunities about NDIS rules will be available through the Department of Health, Disability and Ageing.

EVERY ANSWER MATTERS

Help us plan for Australia's future
2026 Census

HOMELESSNESS GUIDE

What is the Census?
Every five years, the Census counts every person in Australia. It helps us understand how people live and what communities need.

Why do your answers matter?
The Census is the only way to estimate how many people are experiencing homelessness in Australia. Your answers help governments and community organisations plan what support is needed, and where.

This includes:

- Emergency shelters
- Domestic violence shelters
- Fresh meal services
- Mobile laundries and shower facilities

What questions will you be asked?
The Census asks questions about your age, languages used, work, education and housing.

Making a difference
Organisations like Street Side Medics use Census information to improve their services. Knowing where people are means they can set up health clinics in the right places. This ensures doctors and nurses reach people who are sleeping rough or need to access care.

Your answers are confidential and protected by law. They are not shared with anyone, including other government agencies. Find out more at census.abs.gov.au/privacy

Where and when do I complete the Census?

I'm sleeping rough
Census staff will visit places where people are known to sleep rough including streets, parks, cars and tents. They will help you complete a short Census form during the week of 11 August 2026.

I'm staying in a refuge, hostel or boarding house
Service providers or refuge staff will give you a Census form to complete. Call us if you do not receive a form by Tuesday 11 August 2026.

I'm between homes and staying with friends, family or couch surfing
Census instructions will be sent to every house or address. You can be included on that form or request a separate form by calling 1800 181 227.

How to answer the usual address question

On the Census form you will see this question: "Where does the person usually live?". It helps us understand how many people are experiencing homelessness in Australia. There are two ways to answer:

You are sleeping rough, couch surfing or staying in a refuge or hostel
Write NONE for the suburb part of the question. Leave all other fields blank.
A housing/homelessness service has organised and paid for your temporary accommodation (hotel, motel, caravan park or backpackers)
Write NONE - CRISIS for the suburb part of the question.

Can a WA retailer refuse your cash? Here's the deal

These days it's more common to tap a bank card or phone than it is to rummage through your wallet to pay with notes and coins. But as digital transactions dominate, many people are wondering whether businesses can refuse cash payments.

In January this year, the Federal Government introduced a new cash mandate compelling some businesses to accept cash payments.

Under the Cash Acceptance Industry Codes, supermarkets and certain petrol stations must accept cash for in-person payments between 7am and 9pm, unless the purchase is for more than $500.

The cash acceptance rules do not apply to:

- any other industries
- small businesses with an annual turnover of less than $10 million
- fuel retail sites that don't regularly sell unleaded petrol.

Some people assume that because cash is legal tender, businesses must accept it. However, the law is a little more complex.

Outside of the cash acceptance mandate, businesses can choose the type of payment methods they accept, including refusing cash. Businesses are allowed to set these conditions as part of the terms of sale, provided customers are clearly informed before you make a purchase.

For example, if not accepting cash payments, a business may display a clearly visible sign at the entrance or checkout, or staff may advise customers that the business does not accept cash payments.

Some consumers prefer to use cash because it helps them avoid card surcharges. While businesses can charge a surcharge for card payments under the Australian Consumer Law, the fee must reflect the actual cost of processing the payment, such as bank or terminal fees. Businesses must be able to justify any surcharge they charge.

It's also worth remembering that accepting cash comes with costs for businesses, including staff time, cash handling, and banking expenses.

Department of Local Government,
Industry Regulation and Safety

If you prefer to pay your utility bills, council rates, and phone bills with cash, you can still do so by using Post Billpay, a service available at Australia Post outlets.

Ultimately, buying goods or services is an agreement between you and the seller. You do not have to agree to make the purchase if the payment methods aren't acceptable to you. However, unless the business is covered by the cash acceptance mandate, they can legally refuse cash so long as they have made this clear before the sale.

The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission is responsible for enforcing compliance with the Cash Acceptance Industry Codes. If you believe a business is breaching the rules, try to raise the issue with them first. If the matter can't be resolved or you need further advice, contact Consumer Protection on 1300 30 40 54.
